GRANT-SUPPORTED RESEARCH PROJECTS

Principal Investigator, $75,000 Ohio Transformation Fund Grant, From Reentry to No Entry: Asset-Based Organizing for Research-Based Policy Reform. This community-partnered interdisciplinary project investigates the views of residents in highly-policed communities on their definitions of community safety while offering training on leadership development and data analysis to effect policy reform.

Principal Investigator, $25,000 University of Cincinnati Research Council Grant, Reducing Mass Incarceration by Improving Public Defense: Defining and Assessing Quality Attorney-Client Communication. This mixed-method interdisciplinary pilot study investigates the views of public defense lawyers and people who need public defense representation regarding factors that promote and impede quality communication in that setting.

Expert Panel Member, Survey of Public Defenders: A Design Study. This $500,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Justice Bureau of Justice Assistance to the Urban Institute, the National Association for Public Defense, and the Indigent Defense Research Association investigate the views of public defense providers, people who need public defense, and researchers on optimal design of a national public defense survey.
